

Bring the Library of Congress to Your Classroom

Take This Free Course - Open to All Northern Virginia Teachers of All Subjects and Grade Levels

90 Recertification Points /3 Advanced Academic credits

Wednesdays, February 7 – May 30, 2018 (excluding February 7 and March 28)

4:30 - 7:30 at Robinson Secondary, 5035 Sideburn Rd, Fairfax, VA 22032

- Create lessons and activities for immediate classroom use.
- Develop PBL (Project Based Learning) activities for your students.
- Design Performance-Based Assessments with intriguing primary sources.
- Engage students in inquiry and discovery using the rich, digitized collections from the world's largest library.
- Develop Document-based Questions (DBQs), authentic assessments and media literacy activities.
- Collect photographs, prints, oral histories, film clips, political cartoons, maps, manuscripts, sound recordings with real-life relevance.
- Choose fully prepared, ready-to-use primary source sets, lesson plans and analytical tools from the nation's Library to enhance critical thinking in your classroom.
- Explore the World Digital Library and its outstanding global resources.
- Dig deeply into historical newspapers (1835-1923) to uncover stories and cultures from the past in order to teach perspective.

Fairfax teachers sign up through MyPLT. Alexandria, Arlington, Falls Church teachers should contact Sherry@tpsnva.org or Cynthia@tpsnva.org for more information or go to www.TPSNVA.org to register.

Brought to you by TPSNVA (Teaching with Primary Sources Northern Virginia),
A program of the Library of Congress for all Virginia Educators